

RDU Composite Noise Contours

"The composite noise exposure contours were developed as a result of the most recent long range planning effort at the Raleigh-Durham International Airport. The composite noise contours combine assessed impacts from past, present and projected future noise exposure including effects of a planned third parallel runway to be operational by year 2010."

